NEWS SUMMARY.

—Gold yesterday at New York closed inactive at 391.

—The New York cotton market was more steady, closing quiet. Sales 2900 bales at 31½¢.

—At Liverpool cotton closed a shade easier. Sales 10,000 bales. Uplands 11½¢; Orleans 12½¢.

—The natives in Abyssinia have massacred an Englishman and his family.

—The present Chinese population of San Francisco is estimated at from ten to twelve thousand.

—Mr. Burlingame is soon to proceed to St. Petersburg, where he will meet with a magnificent reception.

—Judge Jeremiah S. Black's arm, which was broken in the cars near Louisville a few days ago, will have to be amputated.

—The Queen of Madagascar and several of her ministers were recently publicly baptised in the English missionary church.

—General John O'Neill, the noted Fenian organizer and leader, delivered an address on Irish Liberty, in the City Hall, at Atlanta, Ga., on Monday night.

—The largest income returns in New Orleans are made by William M. Mercer, ($33,621); Charles Koch, ($30,350); A. W. Smith, ($31,070); August Bohn, ($27,728); and A. E. Beder, ($24,754).

—Edwin Booth, the distinguished tragedian, was married at Long Branch, N. J., on Monday last, to Miss Mary McVicker, who, during the past season, has sustained the part of leading lady at his theatre.

—The wheat is now being harvested throughout the upper portion of Georgia, and it is said that the general yield will surpass, for quantity and quality, any previous crop grown there for many years past.

—The election in Virginia will be very closely contested, especially in regard to the Legislature. It is estimated that the predominance of a black or white majority will depend upon the election of some half-dozen members.

—A Havana telegram of the 7th instant says: "Surgeon Quinn, of the United States ship Saratoga, died yesterday of the yellow fever. There are three cases of fever on board the Saratoga. She sailed to-day for Key West."

—A proclamation has been issued in Shanghai, forbidding the Chinese there to salute foreigners, whenever they meet them, with the cry of "foreign devils." This has been the practice ever since the Celestial Empire has been opened to strangers.

—The naughty New York Star, twinkling about the ages of people connected with the press, finally winks at the ladies after this fashion: "As near as we can get at the ages here and hereabout, they are thus: Bennett, 70; Bryant, 75; Greeley, 60; Raymond, 48; * * * Mrs. Stanton, 29; Miss Anthony, 29; Mrs. Shepard, 29; Eleanor Kirk, 29; Jennie June, 29; Miss Dickinson, 29."

—A new cause of excitement in the Episcopal churches of Chicago has been developed. It appears that Bishop Whitehouse has notified the Rev. Mr. Cheney, pastor of Christ Church, that he must cease the omission of the word "regenerate" in the baptismal services. But Mr. Cheney states that he cannot conscientiously use it. The Bishop has given him until Monday to decide, and either use the word or be degraded from the ministry. It is said that Mr. Cheney's congregation warmly supports him.

—On Monday evening one of the members of the Cuban Ladies' Relief Association in New York received from Havana about twenty thousand dollars' worth of magnificent jewelry—diamonds, rubies, emeralds, &c.—the personal contributions of patriotic ladies in Havana to the cause of Cuban independence. Among them were some tiny sets of jewelry worn by children, which had been contributed in aid of the patriots. These articles are to be sold at a fair to be given by the ladies of the association, to be held some time next month.

—Chinese laborers, fresh from the Pacific, have already made their appearance in New Orleans, probably the forerunners of thousands of their race, who will flock to the sugar and rice fields of the Pelican State, by way of the railroad and the river. John Chinaman, with his frugal and industrious habits, will be a welcome assistant to the planters in that section. One load of coolies was imported thither from Havana two years since, and are still working upon a sugar plantation in Lafourche, but the Customhouse officials nipped the enterprise, and stopped the further importation. But how can it be stopped this time?

—It is announced in most of the French papers that the principal shops in Paris will henceforth be closed on Sunday. This important social reform is not the result of a religious movement, but has been brought about by the same kind of agency which, in England, has introduced the Saturday half-holiday. The Society of the Employes de Commerce inform the public that, with few exceptions, all the linen-drillers, venders of ready-made apparel, silk mercers, and hosiers of Paris have consented to close their shops on Sundays, and the employees "appeal to the good will of the public to aid them in making the measure general."

—Geo. T. Jones, an engraver, of Cincinnati, has perfected and patented a system of printing bank notes, which, it is said, defies counterfeiting. He prints on unsized paper, which is well known to take the clearest and sharpest impressions, and then proceeds to apply mechanically a sizing perfected by him, which, having been set by subjection to a heat of 200 degrees, is henceforth insoluble and irremovable without destroying the impressions beneath it, and thus leaving the paper nearly white and wholly illegible. The colors, being wisely chosen, cannot be photographed, but are japanned, as it were, and laugh at the most ingenious and skilful efforts to transfer, which can be removed only by etching or destroying them.

—The New York correspondent (June 7) of the Philadelphia Ledger writes: "The yellow fever, I regret to say, is at quarantine. North German bark Ernst n. Benno, from Havana 1st Queenstown, put in there this morning for medical assistance, part of the crew being down with that disease. Two of the crew, named Wilhelm Beige and Heinrich Boda, died from the disease on Friday last, and were buried at sea. The second officer, Helmut Sino, while delirious from the fever, jumped overboard and was drowned. The captain and four others have been down with it, but are now reported convalescent. The quarantine authorities have given instructions that the vessel shall have no communication with the shore. Steamers Flash and City of Baltimore arrived at this port to-day, from Liverpool, with a total of nearly two thousand passengers."

—A Springfield, Illinois, paper has an account of a shower of what, for want of a better name, that paper calls "snakes," which fell during the great storm of last week in that vicinity. It says: "On Saturday and Sunday last, every ditch, brook and pool on the prairie north of Taylorville was alive with nondescript creatures, which have been described to us as being from one and a half to two feet long, and from three-fourths of an inch to an inch in diameter. The diameter is very slightly lessened at the head and tail. The tail is flat like that of an eel, but has no caudal fin; indeed, there is no fin at all. The head is in shape that of an eel, but the mouth is that of a snake. The eyes are small, and the ears are simply orifices. Immediately behind the head, on each side, is a slipper, like that of a turtle, say three-fourths of an inch to an inch in length, including the limb, which has a perfectly developed joint. In color these snakes, or whatever they are, are a dark blue."

CHARLESTON.

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 11, 1869.

Our Personal Property.

The assessed value of the different descriptions of personal property in the State of South Carolina, under the different heads, is shown in the following table, which has been compiled expressly for THE NEWS, from the returns of the District Assessors:

Class.	No.	Value.
1. Horses.....	50,071	$ 9,325,581
2. Cattle.....	270,987	2,689,972
3. Mules and asses.....	39,257	3,611,672
4. Sheep and Goats.....	164,421	198,608
5. Hogs.....	468,373	1,450,428
6. Watches and Gold and Silver Plate.....	16,907	982,564
7. Piano Foes, Me- sodons or Organs.....	3,420	341,909
8. Carriages.....	15,673	748,906
9. Dogs.....	50,387	104,749
10. Merchants' stock.....		5,991,283
11. Manufacturers' stock.....		1,992,507
12. Monies.....		2,174,300
13. Credits.....		3,718,068
15. Stocks of Companies out of this State.....		1,456,904
16. Bonds not exempt.....		1,853,991
17. Leases.....		241,464
18. All other property.....		8,169,899
Total value.....		$38,828,446

The average value of each article of personal property, where it can be shown, is as follows: Horses $78.40; cattle $9.66; mules and asses $22; sheep and goats $1.20; hogs $3.09; piano fortes and melodeons $99.97; carriages $47.66; dogs $2.07.

The system of taxation under which the foregoing assessments are made being altogether new in this State, we have no detailed returns of former years with which to compare the results. Some few interesting points may, however, be made.

According to the census of 1860, the total value of personal property in South Carolina was, at that time, $359,646,444. Deducting from the amount thus shown the estimated value of the slaves, the remaining personal property was worth $198,684,044, in 1860, as against $38,828,446 at this time. Making all due allowance for excessive estimates in 1860, and undue depreciation at this moment, as well as for the fact that there are now included in the tax list many values which were not included before, we have still the striking fact that the personal property in the State is now worth from $125,000,000 to $150,000,000 less than it was worth before the war. We may also notice that we have now only 50,071 horses, against 81,125 in 1860, and only 39,257 mules and asses, against 66,456 in 1860. These figures show the fearful loss in live stock caused by the war; and while they account for many of the difficulties under which our farmers have labored, will also indicate our great deficiency in animals required for agricultural purposes. Much of the falling off in the number of horses may be accounted for by the general inability of our people to keep animals for purposes of pleasure; but this has had no effect in reducing the number of work animals of other kinds. Of hogs, in 1860, we had 468,779. We have now but 468,373. It is well known that in many parts of the State the predatory habits of the freedmen made it almost impossible to raise hogs in large numbers. But for this we might now have as many hogs as in 1860, our people being fully awakened to the necessity of making meat for home consumption. In the face of these unpleasant results, it is gratifying to note that we have 341,000 pianos and melodeons in the State, and that notwithstanding the ravages of General Sherman, we have still nearly 16,000 pleasure carriages. In Charleston County there are but 300 pleasure carriages all told. Before the war, nearly every family had a carriage of some kind.

One very surprising feature in the return for the State, is the amount set down as the value of all credits. Under the present system, the term credits means the remainder due, or to become due to a person, after deducting from all debts and obligations due him the amount of all debts and demands due by him. It does, then, seem passing strange that the total value of credits in the State should be only $2,174,300. But it is even more strange that the average monthly value of the stocks of all the merchants in the State should be no more than $5,991,283.

As we have had occasion to say before, the tax law is so intricate in its machinery, and so tediously confusing in its language, that it is very difficult to make returns which would be strictly correct. Every taxpayer had, more or less, to put his own construction upon the law, and it is only natural that every one should have taken to himself the benefit of the ambiguous clauses of which the tax law is full. It is still certain that our personal property has depreciated to a terrible extent since 1860; but we may confidently hope that the returns of next year will show, on account of the improvement in the value of property and a greater familiarity with the law, a far more gratifying result than we record to-day.

We print this morning additional crop statements from counties not before reported, and supplementary reports from other districts. The accounts on the whole are good, and the negroes are working well.

The Cincinnati Southern Railway. The Railroad and Law Committee of the City Council of Cincinnati, in their report to the City Council recommending Chattanooga as the terminus of the proposed Southern Railroad, say: "In naming the terminus and thus indicating the direction of the Southern Railway, it is with the belief that a grand intermediate line to Chattanooga will not only strike the key to the largest system of railways in the South, but will also secure connecting roads to Knoxville and Nashville, Tennessee, and Decatur, Alabama, and that the value and importance of such connections will attract public and private capital to speedily complete them."

This fully sustains the arguments already advanced by us, that Cincinnati, although it may adopt Chattanooga as the terminal point of its new railroad line, must make a connection with Knoxville. The branch to Knoxville will give us a line to Cincinnati only 22 miles longer than if the main line had been run to Knoxville, while we shall have a better connection with Louisville than if Knoxville had been made by Cincinnati the objective point of her system. If Chattanooga should be finally adopted by the people of Cincinnati, at the election on the 26th inst., it will only be another proof that in municipal affairs the public good is too often sacrificed to personal and private interests. The people at large would undoubtedly select Knoxville as the terminus; but it is probable that they will be so worked upon and confused by the advocates of the Chattanooga line that they will be glad to close the discussion by voting in favor of that place. A few men of abundant means generally control even the largest corporations, and it will be no matter of surprise if Chattanooga carries the day. Charleston, however, must have a good connection with both Cincinnati and Louisville by the time that the Blue Ridge Railroad is completed. This is the great work now before us.
